

Cookies

We may obtain information about your general internet usage by using a cookie file which is stored on your browser or the hard drive of your computer.

Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's hard drive. They help us to improve our Site and to deliver a better and more personalised service. Some of the cookies we use are essential for the Site to operate.

When you first use our site, we will ask you to agree to our use of cookies.

On 26 May 2011, the rules about cookies on websites changed. This Site uses cookies. Some of the cookies we use are essential for parts of the Site to operate and have already been set. You may delete and block all cookies from this Site, but parts of the Site may not work.

Cookies are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the Site.

You block cookies by activating the setting on your browser which allows you to refuse the setting of all or some cookies. However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our Site. Unless you have adjusted your browser setting so that it will refuse cookies, our system will issue cookies as soon as you visit our Site.

Google Analytics

The Site uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. ('Google'). Google Analytics uses cookies, to help the Web Site analyse how users use the Site. The information generated by the cookie about a user's use of the Site (including your IP address) will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating the user's use of the Web Site, compiling reports on Site activity for web site operators and providing other services relating to web site activity and internet usage. Google may also transfer this information to third parties where required to do so by law, or where such third parties process the information on Google's behalf. Google will not associate a user's IP address with any other data held by Google. Users may refuse the use of cookies (as above). By using the Site, the User consents to the processing of data about that user by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above.
